

CRU Australia COVID Management Plan (v4.4)
Effective 21st November 2023

While there is no current Government requirement to provide a COVID Management Plan, we provide this information to inform those associated with CRU of our approach so that they can be aware of our response to health advice.

The following is intended to provide best protection from the spread of COVID-19 but also to assist in limiting illness from the flu and other transmissible illnesses.

Key principles:

1. CRU will comply with Public Health Orders or Government Directions which apply.
2. CRU will continue to monitor and respond to health advice.

Actions:

1. Those who test positive to COVID must not attend CRU camps, venues, offices or functions within 5 days of their positive test, unless they produce a negative RAT.
2. Anyone who is displaying significant symptoms of respiratory illness is not to attend CRU venues, offices or functions. It is recommended that those with mild symptoms of respiratory illness take a RAT test. A negative RAT will allow those with mild symptoms to attend/remain at CRU venues, offices or functions.
3. Guests coming for a residential program are encouraged to undergo COVID-19 testing before arrival if they display any symptoms of respiratory disease. They must not attend if they receive a positive result.
4. If symptoms arise while a guest is at the site/event, then a risk assessment will be undertaken to assess if that person, and possibly others, need to leave.
5. Household contacts of a positive COVID case should contact the organiser of the camp/event so that a risk assessment can be undertaken to assess whether or not they can attend.
6. Those organising groups to visit campsites for overnight programs are urged to raise awareness with parents of the possible need for them to collect their child from the site.
7. Quarantine facilities will be available at each site for any person who needs to be isolated prior to leaving the site.
8. Hand sanitiser will be readily available at each location. All participants will be encouraged to wash or sanitise their hands frequently.
9. Any cabins/rooms used by those who need to leave the site because of symptoms of illness will be cleaned and disinfected.
10. Masks may be worn at the discretion of individuals.
